

Bill Scott

N.T.I. Day 8

3/16/20

___ Period

Name _____

A serial killer is a person who murders three or more people, usually in service of abnormal psychological gratification, with the murders taking place over more than a month and including a significant break (a "cooling off period") between them.

Write a 1 page report over any serial killer. If you don't have access to research on you may write about serial killers in general using prior knowledge. Consider in your writing the following: 1. What type of victim do they seek out? 2. Is there a place or setting they try to find their victims? 3. How did they kill their victims? 4. Are they an "organized" serial killer? 5. Any other relevant crime scene evidence.

How would the information above help catch the killer? How did they ultimately catch the killer?

N.T.I. Day 9

3/17/20

___ Period

Name _____

Write a brief summary over serial killer profiling.

Offender profiling a method of identifying the most likely type of person that could have committed a crime based on evidence and information found at the crime scene along with specific characteristics of the crime itself. It is not a method for finding the specific person who committed the crime and is not an exact science. In fact it may not even be A science. Offender profiling is not without problems or those who say it is invalid. Not everybody will neatly fit either one of the two types. Some serial criminals may start out as organized and regress into disorganized. This theory/philosophy is about 40 years old yet is still very much in a development stage.

Profiling techniques existed as early as the Middle Ages, with the inquisitors trying to "profile" heretics. The first offender profile was assembled by detectives of the Metropolitan Police on the personality of Jack the Ripper. In 1972, the Behavioral Science Unit of the FBI was formed by Patrick Mullany and Howard Teten; they increased the abilities of detectives by examining the evidence for signs of mental disorders and other traits of the perpetrators.

Organized

1. Above average I.Q.
2. Plan carefully, abducting and killing in one Place, dumps the body in another.
3. Operates in daytime.
4. Engages victims in conversation, lures them with clever ploys.
5. Cleaver, even charismatic.
6. Often later described later as being nice guys.
7. Likely to have a daily routine.
8. Controls the crime scene so as to leave few clues.
9. Socially adequate with friends, lovers, wives.

Disorganized

1. Below average I.Q. (80 to 95)
2. Impulsive, using any weapon on hand
No attempt to hide the body
3. Operates at night.
4. Depersonalizes the victim.
5. Weird, creepy
6. Often said "he kept to himself", etc.
7. Does not follow a regular routine.
8. Leaves chaotic crime scene with clues
9. Socially Inadequate,

Loner, because you feel superior.

10. A true psychopath
11. Knowledge of forensics, follows case in media.
12. Take pride in their clothes & cars (bling?)
13. May contact police
14. Care about their image and reputation
15. More likely to dismember.
16. Select victims who fit a type.
18. Sex before killing victim.

10. Loner, because you are weird.

11. A history of mental illness
12. No interest in police work or media.
13. Clunky cars, or pick-up trucks.
14. May contact victim's families
15. Disheveled, messy housekeeper...
- 16.
17. Does not hunt by type.
18. More likely to be into necrophilia

N.T.I. Day 10

3/16/20

____ Period

Name _____

Research a serial killer and complete a profile on them. How accurate would a potential profile have been? What elements would have been accurate in the profile? Discuss the killer and what elements were true and which elements were not true.

In your opinion, how "real" is the concept of profiling? Explain

¾ page total.

Covid Distance Learning Days

For the 1st 10 days and until further notice. I plan on something a little different if this goes longer than 10 or 15 days.

Watch any film pertaining to Criminal Justice. Forensic Files, The First 48, Cold Case Files, or any other related show. Watch the show and take notes. Pay attention to the details of the crime.

Take Notes AND answer the following 10 questions about each film.

1. How was the crime solved?
2. Was technology involved?
3. What was the crime scene like? Were clues left at the scene?
4. Did Forensics play a part? If so, what type of Forensics?
5. Did eyewitness testimony play a part?
6. Was there an interrogation involved?
7. Did drugs play a part in this crime?
8. What was the sentence? Was it fair in your opinion?
9. What "caused" this criminal to commit this crime?
10. How could amount of these types of crimes be lessened? (Put thought into this)