

Students in Cumberland Elementary School’s 21st CCLC “Village Connection” after school program recently learned about positive character traits. Students were put into pairs and were asked to outline their partner using side walk chalk. When they were finished outlining their partner they had to list good qualities about that person within their drawing.

