

The Cumberland Elementary 21st Century Community Learning Center "Village Connection" began its first week of after school programming. The week was packed full of activities for the students to participate in. The program runs Monday through Thursday from 2:40 - 5:00 pm. Students begin each day with a healthy snack. They are then grouped by grade level and attend Reading & Math tutoring and homework help, physical education class, and an enrichment. On special days guest speakers and presenters come to the program and provide activities for the students.

Students engaged in Physical Activity while utilizing the Ninetendo Wii System playing "Just Dance".

Students Jade Adams, Madison Banks, and Destiny Adams Learned about measurement in Mrs. Terry's cooking class.

SKCTC AHEC representative Tiffany Scott came to 21st Century to do a program called "Sensitivity to Aging". With grandparents day quickly approaching she gave students insight on what it's like to be old. She used a variety of items to make the students feel "old". Students put tape around their joints to represent arthritis, wore headphones to demonstrate hearing loss, wore visually impaired goggles / glasses, and much more.

Sherry Baird from 4-H came and did a presentation about nutrition with students.

1st-3rd grade students sculpted with foam during arts and crafts.
