

A group of students from Cumberland University in Lebanon, TN, recently visited Cumberland Elementary School. The students visited the class of Jennifer Farley to teach the sixth graders to salsa dance. The main instructor, Juan Torres, is from Columbia. In addition to teaching basic salsa steps, Torres shared information about his homeland and culture. The group was in the area working with Club 180 Ministries.