

Harlan County High School Principal Bob Howard and members of the HCHS Dual Credit Photography Class, inspect some of the 20 Nikon D3000 cameras recently purchased for their class. Teacher Rhonda Robinson said the school is fortunate to have a principal like Mr. Howard who is well balanced and values academics, athletics and the arts. "So many of our students are blessed with the spatial intelligence - being gifted in the visual arts. Photography has become a major and fast growing hobby for many young people, there was a huge request from HCHS students who wanted to be able to take photography. Being able to put this quality of a camera in their hands will give them the opportunity to learn how to use the camera in the manual mode, giving them optimal control of shutter speed, aperture and other features, helping them to be the best photographers they can be. Shown here with Mr. Howard, left to right, are students Mary Saylor, Hannah Burkhardt and Hannah Stewart.
