

Harlan County High Schools students receiving awards during the Coal and Rail Centennial Photography Contest included, left to right, Hannah Burkhart, first place in the open category; Mary Saylor, third place in Miners at Work; and Hannah Stewart, first place in Black and White photography. Their photography teacher is Rhonda Robinson. Students were in competition with adults and accomplished photographers.

