

James A. Cawood Book Club recently held their end of the year "Reading Celebration". Stories were read by middle school students and refreshments were served to all participants. First grade students received certificates for their participation.

