

Scholarship finalists named; tickets on sale for banquet

Finalists for the Harlan County Community Scholarships, the Harlan County Soil Conservation District Scholarships and the Bianchi Memorial Scholarships have been announced.

Finalists from Harlan High School are Frederick Noah Busroe, Patricia Clem, Olivia Dixon, William Mason Miller and Ethan Morton.

Finalists from Harlan County High School are Rhett Alred, Shyla Baker, Madyson Bennett, Cameron Carmical, Katelyn McClure, Natalie Middleton, Sierra Patterson and Braydan Roark.

The inaugural Norma J. Boggs Scholarships will be presented at the banquet this year. Finalists for the $2,000 scholarships are Morgan Burke and Sierra Patterson of Harlan County High School.

The scholarships will be presented at the Harlan County Community Scholarship Banquet on Thursday, April 27, 2017, at 6:30 p.m. at the Harlan Center. Tickets for the banquet are on sale for $15 each at Harlan High School, Harlan County High School, Harlan Daily Enterprise and Cumberland Elementary School. All tickets must be purchased Thursday, April 20.

Any organization wishing to present scholarships during the banquet should contact Jeff Phillips at 573-4330, extension 2046, by April 12th.

Donations are currently being accepted to help fund the scholarships, which honor students from Harlan High School and Harlan County High School. Tax deductible donations may be mailed to:

*Harlan County Community Scholarship Fund Inc.
106 South Cumberland Avenue
Harlan, KY 40831*

The scholarship fund was established in 1984 and has awarded well over $100,000 to students from the city and county school district.

For information on the scholarship fund, including a listing of past winners, visit <http://hccscholarship.wixsite.com/hccs/the-scholarship>.