

Black Mountain Elementary School kindergarten through second grade teachers dress as storybook characters and rotate and teach students the books that match their respective characters.

