

Students in Ms. Taylor Lankford's first grade classroom at James A. Cawood Elementary School celebrated Cinco de Mayo with a lesson, an interactive activity, a craft, and food! Students created Cinco de Mayo flip-books, which included a passage that gave facts and information regarding the holiday and comprehension activities. Students then created maracas using plastic eggs, spoons, rice, and tape. They ended their lesson and celebration with walking.

