

The Christ's Hands Christian Leader Scholarship is a one-time award of $2,500 based on a combination of Christ-based leadership qualities (40%), athletic success (20%), academic success (20%), and financial need (10%).

The scholarship fund was created by Kevin and Natalie Reed. A 2004 graduate of Evarts High School, Kevin benefited greatly from Christian mentors who encouraged him to lead by example while pursuing ambitious athletic, academic, and professional goals. As a first-generation college student, scholarship funds helped Kevin attend and eventually graduate from the University of Louisville with a B.S. Workforce Leadership and Development. Since graduating, Kevin has had a successful career in financial technology, currently serving as the Head of Partnerships at Morningstar and a member of the Advisory Council for Feed My Starving Children (an international Christian hunger relief charity). The Reed Family hopes this scholarship will help equip a young Christian leader to excel personally and professionally while living out their faith in demonstrable ways.
