Wallins Elementary School is the only school left in Harlan County to use a coal burning furnace. These furnaces have long been used as examples of aging school appliances and buildings, but in areas like Harlan, where our culture is important to us, we consider it part of our heritage. Furnaces like these were historically used to heat most buildings in Harlan County, as such they have an important place in our history.

Mr. Brent Noe, who is in charge of maintaining the furnace, arrives every morning at 5:00 am to begin shoveling the coal. These fires burn at over the boiling point of water. This furnace, a Weill Mclain, is the original furnace from 1945.

As a result, it is hard to find parts for the furnace if something tears up. With the age of the system, many would lobby to change it to newer, electric systems like those in the primary section part of the school. However, no plans are in place to change the system.

This original coal burning furnace has been in our family for 71 years, ever since the school was built in 1945. It heats the old part of the school, including the gymnasium.

The last several months has been a very positive one for Wallins Elementary School. We have had so much success in all the endeavors that our students have participated in. Our Academic Teams and Math Counts teams have had great success with many of our students placing in their individual events, as well as our teams as a whole competing for the top spots in district and regional competitions. (Our 5th/6th grade Future Problem Solving Team tied for 1st place., our 5th /6th and our 7th/8th Academic Team were District Runners-up, and the 7th/8th Academic Team were Regional Runners-up for 2016, Elementary has not competed in Regionals yet). I am so very proud of these students and those adults behind them pushing them to be their best! We have had several students score in the top spots during the "Math Counts" Competition recently held in Bell County.....Our team placed 1st, and Taylor Spurlock won the individual competition overall! Taylor has now been awarded a 4 year scholarship to the University of Kentucky for his accomplishment. With the many accomplishments in academics, we also had many accomplishments with our Cheerleading and Basketball programs. Our girls basketball program had a great showing during their season (7th/8th were County Runners-up) and the success continued through the Cheerleading and Boys Basketball seasons (7th/8th Boys Basketball Championship, 7th/8th Cheerleading Championship, 5th/6th Cheerleading Championship, and 5th/6th Boys Basketball Runners-up). To be the best at what you do, you have to dedicate yourself to the hard work and preparation that it takes to set yourself apart from the rest of the crowd. You must have humility in your success, and continue to work for future success. I am so very proud of our students and our school! GO DEVILS!

Harlan County School Board member Gary Farmer, believes that Eastern Kentucky needs more beekeepers.

Mr. Farmer has been keeping bees for four years. Mr. Farmer says bee keeping is a low-stress hobby. He said he gets stung about four or five times a year, but it is usually his fault. Mr. Farmer currently has four hives, but usually he keeps eight. Each hive can produce between 15,000 and 30,000 bees, depending on the hive.
